HOUSTON – HomeSafe Alliance, the premier move management provider for today's military personnel and their families, is proud to announce their partnership with the Department of Defense (DoD) in order to further expand employment opportunities for our nation's military spouses.

"We are elated to announce our involvement with the DoD's Military Spouse Employment Partnership program as we aim to fill positions nationwide," said Alan Thompson, Chief Executive Officer for HomeSafe. "Our organization was founded with the intention of alleviating the pressures of permanent change of station (PCS) moves for both military members and their families – and part of that relief comes through providing employment opportunities.
